The IGCSE is a balanced international curriculum which is designed to encourage high academic standards through a practical approach to teaching and learning. The curriculum consists of a three-year course of study leading to an examination which is typically taken at the end of Grade X (X Standard in Indian curriculum). Successful students receive an internationally recognized qualification, the IGCSE. If a student is found fit after Grade VIII from any curriculum, he/she can pursue IGCSE from Grade IX onwards and take Cambridge Assessment International Education at the end of Grade X.

Benefits

This course provides broad knowledge and develops creative thinking, application orientation for the concepts learned and enquiry into every aspect of the learning. IGCSE provides a foundation for higher level courses, including A and AS Levels and the AICE Diploma. Good IGCSE grades count towards entry to universities and colleges around the world. - Two subjects from the language group
- One from each of the other four groups
- One more from any of the five groups

The International Baccalaureate (IB) offers Diploma Program (equivalent to Grade XI - XII). The School is fully residential.

The IB Diploma Program:

The International Baccalaureate (IB) Diploma Program is a challenging two-year curriculum, primarily aimed at students aged 16 to 19. It leads to a qualification that is widely recognized by the world's leading universities.

The Diploma Program prepares students for effective participation in a rapidly evolving and increasingly global society as they:

- Develop physically, intellectually, emotionally and ethically
- Acquire breadth and depth of knowledge and understanding, studying courses from 6 subject groups
- Develop the skills and a positive attitude toward learning that will prepare them for higher education
- Study at least two languages and increase understanding of cultures, including their own
- Make connections across traditional academic disciplines and explore the nature of knowledge through the program's unique theory of knowledge course
- Undertake in-depth research into an area of interest through the lens of one or more academic disciplines in the extended essay
- Enhance their personal and interpersonal development through creativity, action and service

The Curriculum

IB Diploma Program students must choose a total of six subjects, wherein, one subject from each of five groups (1 to 5), ensuring breadth of knowledge and understanding in their best language(s), the social sciences, the natural sciences and mathematics. Every subject is chosen at Higher Level (HL) or at Standard Level (SL).

Subjects Offered in JIRS for IB Diploma Program Students

Jain International Residential School offers the following subjects which lead to examinations at the end of the two-year course of study. The subjects given below are currently chosen and /or offered at JIRS. The final decision on subject choices will rest with the school management.

Group 1: Studies in Language and Literature (First Language)

[English A, Hindi A] Language and Literature HL or SL

The Language and Literature course provides students with the opportunity to study language, texts and culture, and to develop their analytical skills. In the course students develop and refine their language skills, learning how to compare and contrast how language is used in different texts, and how language and style affect the presentation of theme and topic.

Literature will also be part of this course of study. They explore what aspects of a literary text are specific to an associated culture and what aspects cut across cultural and linguistic boundaries. This enriches the students' international awareness and develops in them the attitudes of tolerance, empathy and a genuine respect for perspectives different from their own.

English A – Language / Literature HL or SL

The course is built on the assumption that literature is concerned with our conceptions, interpretations and experiences of the world. The study of literature can therefore be seen as an exploration of the way it represents the complex pursuits, anxieties, joys and fears to which human beings are exposed in the daily business of living. It enables an exploration of one of the more enduring fields of human creativity, and provides opportunities for encouraging independent, original, critical and clear thinking. It also promotes respect for the imagination and a perceptive approach to the understanding and interpretation of literary works.

Language A: literature is a flexible course that allows teachers to choose works from prescribed lists of authors and to construct a course that suits the particular needs and interests of their students. It is divided into four parts, each with a particular focus.

- Part 1: Works in translation
- Part 2: Detailed study
- Part 3: Literary genres

- Part 4: Options (in which works are freely chosen)

Group 2: Language Acquisition (Second Languages)

English B HL or SL, Hindi B HL or SL, French B SL, French ab initio SL

Second language studies develops students' power of expression, provides them with a resource for the study of other subjects, and bring them into contact with ways of thought which may differ from their own.

Several options in Group 2 accommodate students with a very high level of fluency (HL), second language learners with some previous experience in the language (SL) and complete beginners with no previous experience (ab initio). Further information can be gained through meetings with the IB Coordinator and language teachers.

Group 3: Individuals and Societies

Business Management/Economics/Information Technology in a Global Society-(HL or SL), Environmental Systems and Societies [SL]/ Psychology (HL/SL)

An essential characteristic of the disciplines in Group 3 is that their subject matter is contestable and that their study requires students to tolerate some uncertainty. Studies of local institutions and global perspectives foster an appreciation of change and continuity as well as similarity and difference. Students evaluate the major theories, concepts and research findings of the respective disciplines and learn each discipline's methodology.

Group 4: Sciences

Physics, Chemistry, Biology, Computer Science-(HL or SL) & Environmental Systems and Societies [SL]

Group 4 subjects, Physics, Chemistry and Biology, promote an understanding of the concepts, principles and applications of the respective disciplines, together with an appreciation of the methodology of the experimental sciences in general. Students develop practical laboratory skills as well as the ability to work collaboratively through participating in an interdisciplinary group project.

Computer Science HL/SL: For students admitted for May 2014 examination session, Computer Science is offered under Group 4. Computer Science involves solving problems using computers. Therefore a full understanding of logical problem solving is required as well as a detailed knowledge of how computers operate. Successful computerized systems result from: a clear understanding of the problem to be solved; appropriate use of hardware based on a detailed knowledge of its capabilities and limitations; efficient use of algorithms and data structures; thorough and logical design; careful testing and integration of all these components.

The computer science standard level (SL) course focuses on software development, fundamentals of computer systems and the relationship between computing systems and society. The higher level (HL) course encompasses all these elements but is extended to include: computer mathematics and logic; advanced data structures and algorithms; further system fundamentals; and file.

Students are expected to acquire mastery of the specified aspects of Java.

Group 5: Mathematics

Mathematics HL, Mathematics SL and Math Studies SL

All Diploma candidates are required to take a mathematics course. Each course helps to deepen a student's understanding of mathematics as a discipline and to promote confidence and facility in the use of mathematical language. Students are guided to choose the level of math which suits their abilities and university requirements.

Math HL: is designed for students with competence and a strong background in mathematics. Some students will choose to study the subject because they have a genuine interest in mathematics and enjoy meeting its challenges and problems. Others elect the higher-level course to prepare for additional mathematics studies at university or because they need mathematics for related subjects such as physics, engineering and technology.

Math SL: is designed to provide a background of mathematical thought and a reasonable level of technical ability for those not wishing to take mathematics at the higher level. It is intended to provide a sound mathematical basis for those students planning to pursue further studies in fields such as chemistry, economics, geography and business administration. It is a demanding course containing a variety of mathematical topics.

Math Studies SL: is designed to provide a realistic option for students with varied backgrounds and abilities who are not likely to require mathematics beyond the Diploma Program. Students develop the skills needed to cope with the mathematical demands of a technological society; they also apply mathematics to real-life situations.

Group 6: The Arts

Visual Art (HL or SL): The processes of designing and making art require a high level of cognitive activity that is both intellectual and affective. Engagement in the arts promotes a sense of identity and makes a unique contribution to the lifelong learning of each student. Study of visual arts provides students with the opportunity to develop a critical and intensely personal view of themselves in relation to the world.

The Diploma Program visual arts course enables students to engage in both practical exploration and artistic production, and in independent contextual, visual and critical investigation. The course is designed to enable students to study visual arts in higher education and also welcomes those students who seek life enrichment through visual arts.

The Core Requirements

Extended Essay (EE): The Extended Essay offers students the opportunity to investigate a topic of individual interest in the subject of their choice and write a research paper of up to 4,000 words. The purpose of the EE is to acquaint students with the independent research and writing skills expected at the university level.

Theory of Knowledge (ToK)

ToK is an interdisciplinary course designed to provide coherence to the entire Diploma Programme by exploring the nature of "knowledge" gained across various subjects. Students are asked to critically reflect on what accounts for certainty: When can we say we "know" something? And what would be our justifications for saying so? ToK also connects the student's academic experiences at school to the world outside of the classroom by asking them to find relevance and meaning in their own education. Like swimming or riding a bicycle, ToK is hard to describe in words, but fun to do! Expressed through Presentations, Role play, Skits, Open house, Group discussions within the given parameters or topics of their choice.

Creativity, Activity, Service (CAS)

CAS plays an essential role in the development of a true IB Diploma graduate as it fosters students' awareness and appreciation of life outside the academic arena. Through CAS, students have the opportunity to discover, develop and demonstrate all 10 characteristics of the IB's Learner Profile. Students will be encouraged to be Thinkers, Inquirers, Knowledgeable, Open-minded, Risk-takers, Communicators, Principled, Balanced, Caring and Reflective. Through a variety of personally designed projects (Clay Modeling, Pottery Making, Glass Painting, Visit to the old age home, Adopt a school for under privileged and blind children, mountaineering, expeditions in the Himalayas, Coastal exploration and learning new sport) students will interact with members of their class, school, local community and possibly the world beyond.

IBDP Examination Fee

Children who are appearing for their IBDP Board Examinations have to pay the examination fee as per the actual charges by the IBO. Examination fee is not included in their regular school fee.

Award of the IB Diploma

All assessment components for each of the six subjects and the additional Diploma requirements must be completed in order to qualify for the award of the IB Diploma.
